

Syndicate Research Proposal

'Maximising the digital channel, to engage financial services consumers.'

Prepared by Compass Research Ltd

Why maximise the digital channel to engage FS consumers... ?

The technologically savvy, social media dominated millennial generation are establishing themselves in the world of work, actively managing their finances and turning to their parents for advice! Generations X and Y have sceptical "what's in it for me" attitudes.. and Baby Boomers are heading for retirement with a sense of cynicism about financial services, which will influence the advice they give their millennial children

It is increasingly necessary for financial institutions to understand how best to engage with consumers in an environment where people are encouraged to review their; banks, credit providers & GI and changes in the pension landscape transfers decision-making responsibility to customers, most of whom previously relied on their employers or governments for their financial security after retirement.

Whilst digital activity and marketing has grown exponentially; with App development, mobile enabled websites, native advertising and now ROBO-advice, FS providers are still generally behind other sectors. Most are still striving to understand how to maximise the digital channel to engage consumers/customers to consciously become aware of their financial needs, empower them to take action and stay engaged with their product and brand.

Compass Research Ltd. propose to update their highly successful syndicated study 'How to engage consumers with FS providers digitally', which saw how 'People consume digital communication by: Sitting at a PC or laptop to 'eat', 'Snacking' on information via their mobile/tablet, 'Continually Grazing' via their mobile, making it challenging for messages, especially from Financial Services, to get through, or be absorbed.

We identified the greatest opportunity to engage FS consumers/customers by addressing 'what's in it for me'.

Compass's 2016, financially focused UK insight will; drive strategic digital development across your core consumer generations, taking into account the need for digital and financial engagement based on consumer needs. Thus providing actionable insight & solutions to assist syndicate members in how to maximise their digital consumer relationship.

The overall objective we're addressing...

Primary objective:

To identify how financial service providers can use digital mechanisms to engage and motivate consumers & customers to:

- Become consciously aware of their short & longer term financial needs
- Enable decision making
- Maximise & adapt their decisions
- Proactively engage with; decisions they've made / products they've bought / brands they've bought from.

To understand how consumers interaction & engagement with financial services has changed

To understand what will provide true value to create financial consciousness & action

To identify how to build on-going digital engagement

- How this differs:
 - By device e.g. for research, information, transactional, evaluation, etc.
 - By platform they use e.g. website, App, voice technology, web chats
 - By core financial product sector e.g. banking, insurance, savings/investments/pensions, borrowing (loans/credit cards)
- Identifying what consumers truly require to:
 - Enable a personal, holistic financial focus
 - Facilitate action to move forward and motivate & enable action and decision making
- To investigate digital techniques (within an Omni-channel environment) that will maintain engagement holistically with their product/brand portfolio on an ongoing basis

What digital strategies can assist engagement with consumer needs?...

	Millennials	Generation x / y	Baby Boomers
Short Term Needs e.g.	I don't know what financial aspects I should be considering?	I need to review my financial situation / plans	Will I achieve the retirement I hope for How do I live with decisions made I've made
	How do I manage my finances How do I ensure I have the best financial products for me (from e.g. GI to savings) How do I ensure I get maximum benefit from my financial products and any added value elements
Medium Term Needs e.g.	I don't believe I can afford to buy my own home / How can I buy my own home	Will my mortgage be paid off / how can I pay my mortgage off sooner I want to move house	How can I maximise the value of my home / ensure my mortgage will be repaid Should I downsize my home
	How can I make the best of my saving for my medium/longer needs How do I support both my children and my parents as they get older		What's the best thing to do with my pension pot /
	How do I make sure that I'm able to continue my life style if something happens to me or someone in my family. How can I best look after my family
Long(er) Term Needs e.g.	I struggle to see what needs I have in the long term or why I need to do anything about it now	I know I need to think (more) about the retirement I want Are my hopes realistic	Will my pension last & how do I live the decisions I've made about my pension
		What else should I be thinking about longer term	What about any care I or my family may need as we get older

Identifying how to engage consumers to be conscious of their holistic financial health & take appropriate action

Investigating which are the most appropriate:
Devices e.g. Computer, tablet, mobile phone
Communication technologies e.g. e-mail, website, app, social media etc.
Solutions and what they look like e.g. document wallets, solution based decision trees, ROBO-advice,
Brands that do & could provide these solutions

How we'll undertake this research...

Stage 1

Digital Innovators/experts (New thinking)

3 x depth interviews

To identify:

- Current and future digital mechanisms for engagement
- Stimuli to use within consumer research

Financial and non-financial focus

Stage 2

Qualitative insight (Understanding and Ideation)

3 x full day workshops split by:

- Millennials
 - Generation x/y
 - Baby Boomers
- 16 people / workshop (BC1C2)
Mix of digital profiles & financial confidence

Pre-task

- Questionnaire on current digital behaviours
- Identify life priorities, plans & hurdles

Workshop structure:

- Review & understand current digital activity & engagement
- Focus on range of life priorities / financial needs & products:
 - Hurdles
 - How digital channel can engage & support fulfilment (spontaneously & prompted using creative techniques)

Stage 3

Quantitative insight (Fact finding & idea testing/development)

1000 x NAT REP sample aged 23 – 65 / BC1C2

On-line 10 – 15 minute questionnaire

To identify:

- General digital usage (all sectors) & financial services
- What engages digital usage
- Level of financial consciousness
- Appropriate ideas/solutions generated from stage 2.
